
TURNING NORTHWARD

. . . ? . . . a cold—Satan handed it over to me, and I handed it back to him. He handed it back to me, and I handed it to him. So just kept on that way until time to go dedicate a church, and then finally I got away from him and went on to dedicate the church.

Standing upon this box this afternoon . . . That takes me back to the time Mama used to put me on a box to wash the dishes. Well, I hope we do the same thing this afternoon, so the Lord bless.

² A few announcements, announcement I had to make in Houston the other day. I was give a little paper here that said that “Please announce that Brother Van Heuf . . . Van Heus, and W. P. Hinse, will be in Phoenix, Arizona, February the 27th through March the 5th.” Keep that in mind.

And now, I think tomorrow night that Brother Oral Roberts is to speak here. From perhaps this same auditorium? The banquet. And Brother Oral is certainly a masterpiece of God’s in the pulpit. Wonderful man of God, a man of faith. And I’m sure it’ll do you good to come out and hear Brother Roberts tomorrow night.

And then the breakfast in the morning, and so forth, there’s many . . . many has . . . Already I’ve seen many behind the curtain has got their tickets, and so forth. That’s fine. So, we’re always glad to be in these conventions.

³ I know you have something coming off in a few minutes, or just immediately after I get through speaking—some kind of a meeting. I’ll cut my words as short as possible. One thing, being a little hoarse, and the next thing squeezed for time, and you’ve already been here over two hours. I know you’re tired.

Now, tomorrow or next Sunday, the Lord willing (next Sunday being February the 5th), next Sunday evening at the Assemblies of God in Tucson, we’ll be praying for the sick. Next Sunday evening, beginning at seven-thirty at Tucson, Arizona. And then we travel from there on to the West Coast to the . . . and to down to below Los Angeles—Long Beach, I believe it is; then up around Bakersfield for the next service, then going on east. I hope that if it’s God’s will that I be in Zurich the same time these men are there, and also in Jerusalem. I’d like to go to Jerusalem once and see the land where our Lord has been.

I want to greet so many of my fine friends here this afternoon. I see Brother Magnason and Brother Rhodes, so many around here. It’d take quite a time to call their names. And standing here a few moments ago and see little Brother Smith come up and throwed his arms around me—what a wonderful time of fellowship.

⁴ Now, as we read the Scriptures I'd like to take for a text, if it be called that, out of the 3rd verse of the 2nd chapter of Deuteronomy:

Ye have compassed this mountain long enough: turn you northward.

I'd like to speak on the subject of "Turning Northward."

It would be hard for Israel to think that the promised land was forty years away when they were standing on the other side of the Red Sea, dancing, shouting, rejoicing, when they were only merely just a few days from it. It isn't but just a very short time. I think with an automobile you could probably drive it in an hour and a half. By walking you could make it in two days, three or four something like that, easy. You could go on to the promised land.

And they were thinking that they were almost there, and they were having a great jubilee of shouting and praising God, and seeing what God had did for them, and how that . . . It'd been hard to make them believe that they was forty years away from that promise, to the full promise of God that He promised them.

⁵ Grace had provided them a great thing. Grace had provided them a Passover lamb. Grace had provided them a prophet. And grace had provided them an Angel. The Passover lamb was for their sins. Their prophet was their instructor. The Angel was their guide. Grace had provided everything for them. But in spite of all of that, they wanted a law.

And this grace had provided them an escape out of Egypt before they had any law. Then grace had provided them one of the greatest revivals that they'd ever had. In this revival they had seen great powers of God. In this revival they had seen sunshine while the rest of the world was in darkness. In this revival they'd seen the mighty hand of God deliver the innocent people, bringing them from bondage in deliverance. And in this revival, after they'd crossed over the Red Sea, they found all their enemies dead in the Red Sea behind them. Why would they want to add anything to that?

7 I heard them say the other day that Azusa Street meetings, when they had it over here in California, that they thought it was a disgrace when they ever entered the song books in the church. They sang in the Spirit. Just as the Spirit gave them utterance, they sang. They danced in the Spirit. They had a great time. And they expected the Word of God in sanctification to separate them from their sins, and they knowed they'd passed from death unto life. What a revival they were having of some forty years ago!

But as Israel did, so did our fathers make a fatal mistake—one thing that's held them in the wilderness another forty years. We find out that instead of being satisfied with what they had, and what God had done for them, and seeing the works of His hands, the fruit of grace providing everything they had need of—even to so much as they didn't have to have a song book. I wish I could've seen that in them days.

8 But Israel, after all those things, Israel in the natural . . . This is Israel in the spiritual. Just as God was taking His people to a promised land in the natural, He's taking His church to a promised land in the spiritual. And they was on their road having a great time, but yet they . . . After grace had provided everything that they had need of, yet they wanted something to do themselves, something that they could show God they had something to do into it.

And that's what . . . The church, when it gets in that condition, it's always when they lose out. And when you try, or I try, or any man tries, to put his hand on the work of God, to add something to it, or take something away from it . . . We must leave it just the way that God provided it for us. Just let the revival move on as the Spirit moves on.

9 These people was only eight or ten days away from the full promise of God, if they would've followed the leading of the Holy Spirit. These people in this day, our fathers, was just a few days away from the fullness of God's promise, if they'd just went ahead and followed the leading of the Holy Spirit. But we had to do something like they did.

The most fatal mistake that Israel ever made was Exodus 19. After grace had provided them all these things and had given the revival, they still required a law. Though they could have schools, theological trained ministers, and well, just be like the rest of the people—something that they could fuss about, something they could separate one another, break up a fellowship or brotherhood. “We believe this,” and “We believe that.” If they'd just let it go on the way God had it going, it would have been all right.

10 But we always try to put our ideas in it; that when we inject our ideas, when we inject our theology into God's Spirit, it takes God's Spirit away. That's the way it was in that day. They were on the road, but they wanted something they could do themselves.

Through their fussing, and through their carrying on, they found out then that they drove the Spirit of God away from them. It was a great mistake. It was a great mistake when we did the same thing, our fathers. When the Holy Spirit first fell on Azusa Street, and many of the parts of the world, if we would just let it go on, leading of the Spirit—keep the world out, go on, and let the Holy Spirit lead—we'd have done been in the promised land. But we've been forty-something years away from it. Just as they did, so have we.

Something came into the church, another issue, and we wanted to denominate ourselves, instead of just going ahead and loving the brethren, going on. Now, why not leave it alone. "Every plant that My heavenly Father hasn't planted will be rooted up anyhow." So what good does it do for us to draw some denominational barriers to keep the other fellow out. We only fence up something.

¹¹ Now, there's a little story goes something like this, that . . . Maybe it isn't appropriate to say in the pulpit over a Spirit-filled bunch of people as I have the privilege of speaking to. But said, Two monkeys was setting in the tree, looking at each other. And they looked down and seen the poor human beings, and they said, "Men, aren't they miserable? and they say that they came from us. That's mistaken. Never would I ever fence up my coconut tree to keep my brother monkeys from not eating the same coconuts that I eat." See? That's human beings. The church has always been that way.

But they wanted a king, because they wanted to act like the rest of the nations. They wanted to act like the Philistines and the rest of the nations—pattern after the world, instead of letting God be their King.

Samuel told them . . . God said to Samuel . . . Samuel, their faithful old prophet, called Israel up and said, "Have I ever told you anything in the name of the Lord but what come to pass? Have I ever told you anything in the name of the Lord that did not come to pass? Have I ever begged you for your money, or taken anything away from you?"

"No, you have not begged our money," said Israel. "Neither have you told us anything in the name of the Lord that did not come to pass. But still, we want a king anyhow."

¹³ See, man wants to do something himself. He wants to show his authority. He wants to show how big he is, or how much different he can be from somebody else, from the rest of the people. That's when God goes out of the picture, just exactly.

Now, as Israel was, always has been, just as it was then, there was a mixed multitude. Some of them wanted one thing, some wanted another. That's the way we get it today; and usually the one on the other side is the one that wins, when . . .

It's the same way at the Nicene Council, when our churches was set up. One wanted one thing, and one another. The little Pentecostal group was pushed on the outside. The organization take it over.

¹⁴ And the deeds of the Nicolaitanes became a doctrine after the Nicene Council. They formed their own faith, put up their own men, taken all the . . . "Nico," as I said the other day, means "conquer." "Nicolaitanes" means to "conquer the laity," and put all the holiness in a man: do as you want to and pay the money into the church; and let the man do the forgiveness of sins; and let him do your praying, and so forth.

That's not God's will. God's Word gets out amongst the laity, everybody. You're an individual. God dealt with Israel as a nation, you and I as individuals. We each one has to answer before God for our sins.

¹⁵ And we see that that mixed multitude . . . Well . . . This is . . . Two sons of Isaac and Rebekah represents the world over. Every time there's a revival there's twins born. Every time we have a revival, twins are born. Esau and Jacob were twins. One of them was a man after the world, and the other was spiritual.

Now, Esau was just as good a man as Jacob was, if you looked at him. He liked to take care of his old blind father, which was a prophet. He was a good boy —morally, I guess, all right. But . . . and he helped work. And perhaps Jacob was just a Mama's boy, hung around Mama and just, we call, a little sissy. And so Esau was loved, a man of the world, natural, never cared nothing about the birthright.

¹⁶ But to Jacob it didn't make any difference how he got it, there was only one thing he had in his mind: and that was the birthright! No matter what . . . anything else, or how he got it . . . That's the way it is with a spiritual-born churches. When the Catholic church had a revival, when Luther had a revival, when Wesley had a revival, Knox, Calvin, and all down through the ages, it produced twins. And when Pentecost had a revival, it produced twins. When Moses had a revival down in Egypt, it produced twins, a mixed multitude: one to . . . one to the world, that wants to act like the world, be like the world, and pattern their message with the world. The others don't care about what the world says, how classic it looks, or how unclassic it looks, they got one thing in common, that's hold onto the birthright, keep a hold of God. Just the way it's always been. That's the way it is yet today, my friends. Hold onto the birthright.

Jacob, he . . . didn't make any difference how much they called him a sissy, how much . . . what . . . how he got it, just so he got it. That's the way it is today. Makes no difference to people who's spiritual. Now the . . . many times the churches are compromising. It gets so they just shake hands with the preacher.

¹⁷ As David duPlessis well placed it not long ago, that God don't have any grandchildren. That is true. Our Pentecostal churches are bringing in their young ones, placing them upon the seat, and putting them members of the church. They never come through the process of being born again, and filled with the Holy Ghost, and upon their own. We just take them into the church.

What have they got? A bunch of flat-top hair cuts, Rickys, run right on the street here just like the rest of the world; women with bobbed-hair, wearing make-up and everything else— it's a disgrace—trying to pattern after the world instead of going after the spiritual standpoint.

¹⁸ We've had a lot of great moves in our great big churches, and try to be bigger than the other fellow, mowing the other fellow over, and working for our organizations, denominations. What have we got? We're hatching out a bunch of hybrid people, instead of borned again children of God. That's right.

Hybrid—one of the ruinations of the world. A hybrid can never cross himself again. When a mule is ever born . . . A mule cannot be nothing else but a mule. That's all he is. He's born, he's a mule. He's a half-breed. He's between a horse and mule. He don't know who his papa is, and who his mama is, where he come from, or where he's going. He's just ignorant as he can be. He hasn't got no, no gentleness to him. You can talk to him, he will just stick his ears out and nicker, "haw, haw," with his big ears out.

Sometimes I get around and preach to a lot of them mules, that knows no more about God than a Hottentot knows about a Egyptian night. Stick their ears out and say, "The days of miracles is past. There's no such a thing." It's a hybrid. He might belong to a Pentecostal organization that . . . Might belong to any other organization, but a borned again man and woman . . .

fellowship, reach across the line, and shake hands with any brother, take him in—he's a brother citizen of the same kingdom.

No matter how he was baptized, or sprinkled, or poured, or what he did, or throwing his head, or jump up and down, or whatever he done, he's a brother anyhow. As long as he's got the Holy Ghost, he's your brother. And a real pedigreed, borned again Pentecostal man and woman believe that with all your heart, and that's . . . ? . . . Certainly . . . ? . . .

As I've often said, I say again. I don't care what kind of a birth it is, any birth is a mess. If it's in a pig pen, or if it's in a corn shock, or if it's in a pink decorated hospital room, it's a mess. And so is the new birth a mess. It'll make you do things that you never thought you'd do. It'll make you weep, bawl, cry, and raise up your hands, and turn all kinds of shines, and everything else. And you'll act disgraceful before a starchy, self-styled group. But you don't care, as long as you get birth out of it.

It's the kingdom of God is what counts. We're all working for one place. I belong to the Baptist church, to the Assemblies, or the Oneness, or the Threeness, or the Fiveness, or whatever it was. We want to be working for one principle: That's for our heavenly Father, to get born-again children into that kingdom up there. Outside of that, we're working in vain. We're trying to do something for a man-made institution that'll fall, as sure a two two's is four. It's got to fall, it's of man. Has to fall. Only God's thing stands.

I have nothing against them. That's fine and dandy: but when you draw those barriers that we cannot fellowship with the other fellow, that's when it gets bad. I been given out and told that I didn't like organizations. I like the people in the organizations, but not . . . The organizations is fine as long as you don't draw a spot, and say, "We believe this, and you . . . the rest of you, stay away from it. And we'll not cooperate with that Businessmen's group or anything as long as they do like the way the other organization . . ."

²² When they get to be an organization, I'm getting away from them. That's exactly right. I don't believe in the stuff. I believe that we're brother, have fellowship and following the leading of the Spirit. That's exactly what I like about it.

A mixed multitude. They had a law. They went to Mount Sinai, got a law, so they could all have doctor's degrees, Ph.D., and LL.D., Q.S.D's and all kinds of D's. And so, the first thing you know, it's got them in trouble.

²³ Now, the law served its purpose. It was all right in its day. The law did all right; in its day it served its purpose. So has the denominations done all right. It's all right in its purpose. But remember, the law never took them to the promised land. Joshua took them over, grace, not the law.

And neither will the denomination, any denomination ever take the church of God over. It'll be the grace of God that's shed abroad in our hearts by the baptism of the Holy Ghost that'll take us to the promised land, into the fullness of God's blessings. Certainly it is. They make a fatal mistake when they do those things.

It served its purpose, was very well, but the time come when it wasn't no good no more. God let it die out, so He could take grace and take them across, and positionally place them into their places in the promised land. So will the grace of God put every member, prophets, teachers, so forth. Not . . . A denomination can't do that. You have a bunch of presbyters to lay hands on. It won't mean no more than throwing water on. It's got to take the Holy Ghost to "separate Me, Paul and Barnabas." It took the Holy Ghost just to separate a man and woman and place them where they . . . their position . . . ? . . . in Christ. That's true.

Well, they had . . . then they had their twelve different heads, twelve different groups of them. And they sent them up to the promised land to spy out, to see what they could get . . . any information from the inside. When they come back, we find out that ten of the group said, "It's impossible to take it. We just can't do it. It's too much of a job. We're little bitty fellows up the side of them. We look like grasshoppers."

But there was two that had evidence. They'd been somewhere. When they come back, they had the fruits of the land. They come back to know that they'd been over, and brought back the evidence that it was a good land. Well, that's about the way we get it out of a revival—about two in a setting. It's just about like setting a hen's egg, about two out of a good setting.

²⁵ And the first thing you know, Joshua and Caleb come back with the evidence that it was a good land. They had a evidence. A evidence. But that wasn't all the evidence. They just had one evidence. That's what the Pentecostals got when they crossed over the land, into the wilderness, over the Red Sea, and found their enemy dead. They begin speaking in tongues as an evidence that they'd been over there. They knowed there was something good. They knowed there was a land somewhere that was beyond anything that we've reached yet. That's right.

But that's not all the things. We settled down on that, went to seed on that. Right. God said, "If there be one among you to come in and speak with tongues, the unlearned comes in, he will say, 'Well, they're all mad.' But if one will prophesy and reveal the secrets of the heart, then they'll fall down and say surely God is with you." Paul said that.

But as soon as we did it, we have to denominate ourselves to keep the others out, build up a fence around our coconut tree that nobody else glean off of this but us. That's the reason the rest of us couldn't get anywhere. It's our own selfish ideas instead of letting the Holy Spirit lead us all out. And we've waited for forty years, and nothing's happening. You're still staying in the same place, same old thing. Oh, my.

²⁷ We find out that they made a fatal mistake. And they raise up a big bunch of fighters. That's what we have, a big bunch of fighters. One saying, "Bless God, I'm the Assemblies. You are Oneness. Don't you have anything to do into it, You old Church of God, we got it." Church of God: "Bless God, we are the ones that's got it. We got the prophesied name."

The Oneness says, "We got it because we baptize right. Hallelujah!" You bunch of fighters. God just let you set right here till you die. That's exactly right.

The Bible said they stayed there till all the old fighters died out. Amen. That's exactly right. He let them stay right there till all the old fighters died out. The Bible said so. Those fighters, fighting over their organization boundaries, and "Don't you have no fellowship with that group. That's buzzard roost, and this is so-and-so." As long as you got that in you head, you'll just set right there on the mountain and starve to death.

28 Did you ever think of what those people done for forty years? Not even forty days away, and God kept them there forty years. That's what it was a long time ago.

"Well, I believe that . . ." Someone speaking of the coming of the Lord Jesus, I believe it's past due. I believe it's because of the church, the reason it's past due. Jesus said so. "As it was in the days of Noah, so will it be in the coming of the Son of man." In the days of Noah, God was longsuffering not willing that any should perish. He waited for the people to come in, and today He's waiting for the church to get together.

I know it's not popular. It's not popular amongst people. But, brother, it's the message of the hour to come together. The souls have to move together. We are to be one church of the living God—Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians, Lutherans, Oneness, Threeness, Fiveness, all of us together. We are one group. We are God's children by birth. That's exactly right.

29 "All the Father has give to Me will come to Me," and how are you going to come, when you got a fence built so high you can't touch the coconuts. See? "You have to do this, and do that." Oh, so many people . . .

Like the Philippian jailer that night, when he said, "What must I do to be saved?"

What will we do? We tell him what not to do. "You got to quit doing this, you got to quit going over there. You got to quit doing this." He never asked what he had to quit doing, doing. He asked what could he do to be saved? Right!

Paul told him in no misunderstanding words, he said, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." That's all. Get the faith of God back in the people, so that they'll know what to do and how to act. Not say, "Come over and join our group. Come over and join that group." Just get them back to God, God will take care of the rest of it. Get them into the kingdom. Old fighters . . .

30 The Bible said that because they disbelieved the two men . . . Caleb and Joshua quietened the crowd. Now, ten years ago, they wanted to know . . . introduce Pentecostal, and all different ones, and so forth, and they . . . One say, "Well, now we will go down at these big groups, and things like that, and we're going to let the Holy Ghost lead us on."

Some of them said, "Let the Holy Spirit lead."

Well, some new issues and the different kinds come in. If it's not of God it'll fall anyhow. So why . . . Just let them go ahead and let's love one another. Don't fight one another. As long as the devil's got you fighting one another, he don't have to fight at all. He will set back and has a picnic, watching you fight one another, and laugh at you professing to have the Holy Ghost, and fighting one another.

³¹ Love one another. Jesus said, ". . . this will all men know that you're My disciples, when you got love one for the other." This is when all men will know that you're My disciples: got love one for the other. That's the greatest evidence of the Holy Ghost that I know of, when you can love one another. Yes, sir. That's the great commandment. Great thing. Though you speak with tongues of men and angels, and have not love, it profits you nothing.

See, don't organize off on your evidence of the Holy Ghost—which is all right, I believe it, too. But wait. There's more than that. (Excuse me, my colored friends.) Like the colored man down in the South was eating watermelon. They give him a little bitty slice about like that. That boy could eat more watermelon than that.

Said. "How did you like it, Sambo?"

He said, "That's good. But there's more of it."

³² That's just the way it is when I get a taste of God, when the Holy Ghost comes into the meeting. That's good, but I want more of it. There's more of it, because He promised every redemptive blessings is ours. Yes, sir!

They stayed on a mountain forty years. We stayed in our denominations forty years, fussing this way, and that way, and . . . Do you ever think what them people done out there forty years? Well, sure God was with them. He's been with us. They'd been out there forty years, and they raised children. God prospered them, had good crops. They done a lot of good out there. God blessed them and healed their sickness. There wasn't a feeble one among them when they come out of the wilderness. But He let them stay right there till that old bunch of fighters left—all died out.

³³ That's just exactly what He's done today, set us right down, joined the Assemblies, and join the Church of God, and join this, and join that, and join, join, join, oh, until we set here; and raised children and bought Cadillacs and prospered in business and everything else.

But the end of the forty years is up, brother. There's a new generation's been raised up. That's right. There was a Joshua raised up one day. He absolutely believed God's Word, every bit of the promise—not only to take care of you, and bless your business and so forth, but there's more of it than that. God's done the same thing today. And I believe that this Full Gospel Businessmen's organization is part of God's program. I'm not saying that because I'm standing here before them. If I did, I'd be a hypocrite.

³⁴ But I mean it, because they have not drove down a stake, and say "this organization," or "that organization." They stretched their lines far enough till they take in all. And that's the reason I'm part of them today, because they're in the very program that I believe is right. It was stretched to the Assemblies of God, to the Church of God, to the Foursquare, to the P. A. J. C., P. A. of W., United, everybody, whosoever will, let him come that he might drink of the water from the fountain of the waters of God freely.

Don't matter if you're riding a one hump camel, two humps, three humps or how many humps he's got—even if he's on a donkey. No. Don't make any difference . . . ? . . . There's food for all of us here at this house. That's when they come together. That's the reason I've followed the Businessmen around, because in there I can speak to all the groups and get my message over to them, to let them know that this is the thing I believe in.

But these fellows are not fighters. The new group wasn't fighters. He let all the old fighters die off. When the old fighters died off, He took their sons, and raised up among them Joshua, and sent them over to the full promise.

I believe that that's what we're seeing today. I believe that's what this Christian Businessmen's organization is doing. God is using it mightily, and He will continue to do it as long as they keep that denominational barriers broke down. They don't tell you what church to belong to. Belong to anything you want to.

But they're trying to get you . . . getting away from the old fighter's disposition, back to where there's room, we can put our arms around any brother. If it's Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, Oneness, Threeness, or whatever it is, put their arms around him. He's a brother. Don't fight him; love him. Amen. As long as we keep that attitude, God going to reap one of these days. And I believe we lay at His feet now . . .

³⁶ You've been on this mountain of organization forty years. Let's move upward. Let's move out of here. Ministers, my ministering brother out there; don't you think we've been on this mountain long enough? Don't you think we've fussed, and fought, and carried on, and stewed over our organization boundaries long enough?

Let's get off of this mountain and move up to the promised land. Let's start going up, and possess the land. God told them, "Go up and possess the land. All the old fighters is gone now. Put your sword back in its sheath. Don't fight."

But it's time that God is calling His church to move up. I believe that. And notice, He said, "Now, as you go by Mount Seir . . . "Now, there's your denominational brother Esau's setting up there (a good Presbyterian, Methodist or Baptist). Now, don't bother him. Don't fuss at him. Just pass by, and say, 'How do you do, brother?'" Walk right on. But you been wanting to get him and shake him and tell him he hasn't got nothing. That's right! Remember, he's got just what God give him. He come out of the same revival you did. Right.

³⁸ He's got . . . He's told . . . told Joshua, "See that you don't go over on Mount Seir, now, 'cause I've give that to Esau." That's all the farther he's supposed to go. That's all he knows about. That's the only thing he knows, is his denomination. "Oh, we are so-and-so: we are . . . " That's all he knows. That's all God give him. "Just pass on by now. Don't go to fussing and fighting with him. Just pass by quietly. But looky here, Jacob, you Pentecostal Jacob—you really born again, that's got the experience, and led by the Holy Ghost—don't go to fussing with him."

But the Pentecostal Jacob has the full promise down in the land, the thing that's going to happen. God said He'd just . . . ? . . . the whole thing, and put you in the promised land, with the fullness of the Spirit, with every operation.

³⁹ I stood the other morning in that meeting and seen that myself, that my ministry is a spiritual ministry, as I'm not much of a preacher. But notice, in those lines when they talked about Charles Price and him dying there, and Brother Shakarian prophesying that these things come to pass, oh, my spirit rose up within me, said, "That's it, that's it, that's it. If they could only see it, that's it."

We're ready to go up and take the land. Remember what I say about hospitals and so forth, we're ready to do it when you sons of the old fighters gets together.

Oh, you ministers here, you brethren here in Phoenix, break down your denominational barriers. Repent and get a Pentecostal revival! We can all join in . . . ? . . . want a revival, the Holy Spirit falling back in the church, and being led by the Holy Ghost. God willing to do it. Go up and possess the land.

Pass on by them. Don't, don't fuss with them. If they don't want to come, that's all right. That's all right. Go ahead. "How you do, brother?" Pass on by. He's a borderline believer. That's all he knows, is stay on the borderline. That's the way a lot of people are today. All they know is their denomination, "I belong to this. I belong to that."

⁴⁰ I asked a woman one time was she a Christian. She said, "I'll give you to understand I burn a candle every night," like that had anything to do with anything that's Christianity.

I heard a man say, said, "I'm an American. Sure I am." That's no more to do with it than a hog needs a sidesaddle; that's no, no more to do with it than put a sidesaddle on a hog. Why? America don't mean Christianity. Christianity is a borned again experience, the baptism of the Holy Ghost it'll . . . ? . . . for fellowship and love and tolerance. And the Holy Spirit takes over the church, and does great things. Oh, sure. Yes, sir.

I thought I felt something moving me around. I didn't know what it was. I wasn't sure I wasn't gone up already . . . said, "Somebody's moving the box around now. Thought, "Here I go . . . ? . . . " Yes, sir.

We've been out here forty years using this for evidence, speaking in tongues. Oh, my! When there's powers that's unknown, when the resources is untapped: "Whatever you ask in My name, that I'll do. Ask the Father anything in My name and I'll do it." Amen. Just divine healing and speaking in tongues, well, that's, that's just a few grapes that was brought back from across the land. The land is ours! It all belongs to us. Don't be afraid that the other fellow's going to beat you over there. Just join up with him and go on over. That's the way to do it. And we've been on this mountain for forty years. Let's get off of it, and go towards the promised land.

⁴² My prayer is that God will help these Businessmen to keep their hearts as one. That's right. And if the ministers won't do it, God will raise up businessmen to do it, or something else, to get them together . . . Because the church cannot go with an arm in one place, and a head another, and a foot another. He's got to have a prophesying and a noise of coming together (That's all I can tell you), till the whole body of the Lord Jesus Christ stands up as one great unit of God, then we'll leave this mountain, and go over and possess the promised land. Until then, I'm your brother, and I'm only fighting for that one purpose: to unite the church of the living God together, as one heart and one accord. God bless you. Brother Shakarian . . .

[Blank spot on tape—Ed.]

⁴³ [Remaining portion of tape may be part of another service. It starts with another brother's comments—Ed.]

Think that maybe in our worship, as sincere as we are, yet sometimes we fail to see the real power of God as great as it is among us. Now, when this vision came, which . . . Many of you—perhaps all here has been in the meetings, and see visions to see what takes place. And the reason I made that remark, to say here this morning, is just . . . If you could just know the Presence of the Lord. They've taken a picture of it many times, that Light. That—that is God, because it brings forth the same nature.

⁴⁴ Just like if a—if a—if a tree . . . I was here in Arizona some time ago and found a citrus fruit tree that I think had several different kinds of—of fruit on it. Maybe it was an orange tree, and had, maybe, say, a lemon and grapefruit growing on it. It'll—it'll grow in that tree. But Jesus said in Saint John 5—15, I believe, "I'm the Vine, ye are the branches." Well, now, if that branch brought forth . . . or this—this Vine brought forth its first branch, and they wrote a book of Acts behind that—that—that branch, if that true vine brings forth another branch, it'll write another Book of Acts behind it. See, because now, there's a grafted . . . You can graft these other citrus fruit, and it'll live of the life of that tree.

⁴⁵ And I think today that many times in our—not belittling our organizations now, but we—we end it with a period. You see, "We believe this and that's all." If we will end it with a comma, "We believe this, plus what God will show us," see, it'll be different, your organization. But when you end it with a comma, there's nothing else to be added. And as the tree is growing on, I think that the church, really, any church organization, thrives off the life of Christ. I believe that. Because it's something that's been grafted or added in there. It's taken the power out of the laity and putting it upon a minister, or a bishop, or whatever it might be. Like in Revelation there, said, "The deeds of the Nicolaitanes—"Nico," is "to overcome," and laity. I think in a meeting like this it gives God a chance to work through laity. See, the power of God work through the laity.

⁴⁶ Now this was in 1933. I was still a missionary Baptist minister. And I'm fifty-one years old now, and I've seen thousands of those visions, and many of you here has been in the meetings. Now, just call anyone to ask if one ever failed. It's never failed. It can't fail. It's Him.

Now—now if . . . We find out that's new to the church today, and like the power of the Holy Spirit is new in the church the way we see it here. (I hear Baptists, and my brethren, and so forth, testifying.) We find that this is new to the church.

But what it is: it's—it's another branch coming forth out of that Vine. And if you'll watch it, it acts just like it did in Acts, how the Holy Spirit will rise up among the people and speak different things.

⁴⁷ This morning I was going down to my church. I didn't know what to call a vision. But I—I saw these things. That was many years before the world went to war, and said, "There's a dictator now by the name of Mussolini. And his first invasion will be at Ethiopia, and he will overcome Ethiopia, but he will come to a disgrace. And everything that it spoke of, seven outstanding things . . . Maybe tomorrow I might just bring that old piece of paper and let you look at it. And show that how it come to pass—five things perfectly, and the seventh was predicted. Now, it spoke in there that when they gave to the women rights to vote, that in . . . So I have nothing against . . . I've been called . . .

⁴⁸ Over the nation it looked just like where rocks was blowed out and stumps was smoldering, and—and so forth. And immediately after that, Mr. Roosevelt—truly in the time of his administration here—the world went to war. And Mussolini did just exactly, and Maginot line, and everything that we spoke of. And the electing, and it was women, we know, that elected our president now.

I'm . . . just like it is in the southland, being a southerner, they ask a lot about, "What about segregation and so forth?" I just . . . The . . . ? . . . As an American, I—I believe . . . ? . . . Whatever it takes, all right. So now, if it be our president, we have to respect it.

⁴⁹ Now, a few days ago something came to me, and I wrote it down. And someone said (I think it was a gentleman set here, had dark glasses, this morning, and I think it was he.), "he will make a real president for the first four years." Exactly right.

But you just watch. We've sinned away our day of grace. It's later than you think . . . ? . . . See? The hour is getting close. And remember, it will be the flatteries that it's taken. And we're—we're near the end time now. I'm—I'm positive of that. I'm just as positive . . . Yet I . . .

⁵⁰ Many of you, has said nice compliments about the ministry, and so forth. Let that be what it may be. But if you believe that we're speaking in the Name of the Lord, America is finished. That's right. And if there's ever any time to work, we're going to have to do it now, right now. And "all that the Father has given me will come." And we've got to start seining real hard and fast.

And I appreciate . . . And I say this morning, to finish out—not taking somebody else’s time, the second time up here . . . Forgive me for it? I think tomorrow afternoon I’m supposed to speak, and I wish you would come. I want to speak on “We’ve been on this mountain forty years.”

⁵¹ So I believe, that as many chapters as our Lord has used me in helping to organize, and everywhere in my ministry . . . I’ve never tried to make—let my ministry become a show. There’s one thing Jesus Christ lacked; it was showmanship. Someone said not long ago, said, “Brother Branham, you ought to get with the big So-and-sos,” as the brothers that’s been speaking. Now, as my position in the body of Christ is watch the spiritual ends and see where they’re at, that’s what I’m ordained for. That’s my purpose of—of—of being here—Christ put me here to watch the spiritual part. As these, what we call big shots . . .

See, that man (ever who it was speaking, I believe the brother was sitting here) . . . We can’t be a big shot and be a Christian. The way up is down. He that humbles himself shall be exalted.

⁵² And many have said . . . Someone called me not long ago—very outstanding man of a great organization—said, “Brother Branham, we will do so-and-so and so-and-so if you’ll just quit saying this and that.” Quit saying this and that? That’s my ministry; that’s my life; that’s what I thrive on is that. Never could I compromise on the Word of God for something. I must stand exactly. We are . . . Said, “. . . ? . . . Thing is, you’ve been fooling around with a bunch of just a . . . oh, some of the smaller people, the little groups, and so forth like that. Come out.” See, the man not knowing what he was saying.

If he only knew, that’s the same thing was said to the Master [Blank spot on tape—Ed.] of our life, Jesus Christ. His own brethren said, “. . . ? . . . go up here and make a big show of something, hit the big nerve centers.” . . . ? . . .

Said, “Your hour is always; mine’s not yet.” He deals with them fishermen and illiterate and men who could not read or write. See, what the world calls good, God calls foolish.

⁵³ So, wonder what some kind of interpretation they gave to the Scripture of Isaiah 40, the clergymen of that day? Perhaps God would open up the heavens and send down the corridors, and John the Baptist would come marching down with an Angelic band. What was it when all the high places was made low and the low places made high; and the mountains skipped like little rams, and the leaves all clapped their hands? An old (Excuse this expression. I don’t mean it like this, but just to make a point.), an old fuzzy-looking fellow come out of the wilderness, standing in mud, probably ankle deep, and maybe a bath every three or four months, a piece of sheepskin wrapped around him. That's when the high places was made low, the low places was made high. Not some great big fellow with some big flowery something behind him. That's a stuffed shirt. God wants men. That's right. Be humble.

⁵⁵ And I think this morning, of all the meetings that I've ever been in, this has been my opinion. I've had people . . . Hear them shout and praise the Lord, and I like that too. But I've seen people shout and praise the Lord, and not enough faith to heal a toothache. See? But that's—that's some of the blessings of God, but when it comes to the power of God is when they settle down, the Holy Spirit . . . Watch in the meetings when the discernment comes. Everything's quiet, reverently approaching God with—with—with sacredness, and the fear of God moving, and watch real conviction change the expressions of faces and things, like I've been watching this morning over the building.

⁵⁶ To me this is the greatest breakfast I've ever eat anywhere in the Christian Businessmen's group since I've been with them. They're the only group that I belong to, right here. I don't even belong to an organization, but this is the only one I belong to. I appreciate this group of people, because, one thing, it's the thing I'm standing for. And in here sits the Assemblies, the Church of God, Foursquare, Baptist, Presbyterian, Oneness, Twoness, Threeness, Four . . .

I have spoke of it as the well that Jacob dug. I won't . . . Don't think I express this just right, or call the right words, but I will say it so that you'll understand. He dug one well and the Philistines run away from him—run him away from it. And he called it “malice.” He dug another one, and he called it “strife.” Then he dug the next well, said, “There's room for us all.” So I—I think that's what it is here; there's room for us all (Yes, sir.), where we can come together and set together in heavenly places, no denominational barriers bother us; we're just one group in Christ.

⁵⁷ If I could see all the great churches, spiritual churches, that's striving, the real true vine that's coming out of Christ Jesus, the groups of Pentecost alone, could come together and be brothers . . . I don't care about their organizations. They can keep them if they wish to. That's all right. But don't just end that with a period. Put a hand out and get the other fellow. See? Let's all come together. See? If I could see that happen (I say this as reverently as I know how), I—if I could see it happen this morning, I'd be willing to say, like Simeon of old, "Lord, let Thy servant depart in peace, according to Thy Word, for mine eyes have seen Thy Salvation." . . . ? . . . And the time will have to come soon, brethren, because we're going to be forced together. You just remember that. God bless you. Thank you, brother.
